
Mike Croslow

BRIEF BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Mike Croslow is a passionate advocate for world missions and a veteran missionary having served 20 years on the field in East Africa. As founder of Abundant Life Ministries in Uganda, he focused on church planting, ministers training, and childrens ministry, primarily among the Busoga and Iteso tribes. Now fully indigenous and under African leadership, Abundant Life Ministries has become a church-planting movement with over 40 churches in Uganda, Rwanda, Burundi, and Kenya.

After moving back to the States in 2000, Mike served as International Director for Agape Missionary Alliance. In 2003 he helped found and establish Harvest Churches International (HCI), and served for three years as Executive Director and then as Coordinator for World Missions. During this eight year period he helped raise over five million dollars for local church missions outreach. Mike serves as Africa Director for HCI, building a network of churches and ministers across East And Central Africa.

Mike and his wife Vail live in Kampala, Uganda. He presently serves as the Managing Director of BANCS Microfinance, a Christian MFI that provides opportunites for Africans trapped in poverty to receive assistance in the form of business training and mentoring, small business loans, and personal counseling and ministry. This approach gives the poor a "hand-up" as opposed to a "hand-out", and creates lasting and sustainable change in their lives.
